To Whom It May Concern:

I have yet to meet a student activities coordinator who enjoys organization registration. Usually, comments in this regard end with a huge sigh. Sigh no more! OrgSync has opened a door to simplifying student organization registration and so much more...

There are a number of reasons to consider this company. In these financially difficult times, increasing staff is a limited possibility for most student affairs units. Instead, Georgia College pursued technology to solve problems with administratively overwhelmed employees, disorganization, and poor communication response times.

I would like to share my experiences and that of students, alumni, faculty, and administration on our campus. At first, I only considered the advantages that OrgSync would offer students, but quickly realized that OrgSync expands far beyond this limiting context. As a college administrator for student activities and organizations, I availed myself of the many features that the program offers, such as text messaging, electronic form creation, master calendaring, webpage development, file management, committees, to-do lists, and many more.

After learning to navigate OrgSync, I discovered keys that unlocked doors to many challenges facing student activity administrators: mounds of paperwork, managing campus-wide committees, maintaining calendars and to-do lists, and budget tracking to name a few. All are easily managed by OrgSync. Each day is a new adventure in OrgSync because they are working tirelessly to meet the needs of students, student organizations and university administrators.

As an example of OrgSync's flexibility, I was able to make our annual awards process completely paperless. I was able to create a web page explaining each award and to build links to electronic forms for nominations and recommendations. I was even able to create a committee to review the nominations and score them inside of OrgSync. Best of all, I was able to export data and generate award certificates all without misspelling a name. With OrgSync's help students, alumni, faculty and staff no longer had to leave their offices or homes to nominate a student or provide a recommendation. We had the highest number of nominations in the 13-year history of the program thanks to OrgSync.

More importantly, my students are now using OrgSync as their preferred communication tool and only use Facebook for marketing purposes. Changing student organization culture can be difficult, but OrgSync with innovative uses of technology is making that easier than ever before.

Finally, staff at OrgSync are phenomenal. Their in-house developers use the latest technologies. They really listen to requests of university administrators and make every effort to accommodate their needs. Customer service is a top priority for OrgSync and it shows. I am very pleased with our decision to use OrgSync and I highly recommend them.

Sincerely,
